GIRAFFE CALF
Giraffa

Baby giraffes, called calves, come into the world head and front legs first as the mother giraffe gives birth standing up. At birth, giraffe calves are about 6 ft. tall and weigh approximately 220 lbs. Calves grow approximately 1" per month so their height doubles in the first year of life! Giraffes are beloved zoo residents and giraffe births are celebrated in US zoos annually. While zoo primary mission is education, conservation and entertainment, the downside of captivity is the giraffes' confinement and ability to roam.

HIGHLAND COW CALF
Bos taurus taurus

Highland Cattle are an ancient cattle breed native to the Scottish Highlands and whose signature long fur enables them to withstand the rough climate of the region. Highland Cow babies, called calves, are born with the ability to walk, stand and feed themselves soon after birth. Calves also recognize their mother at an early age and mother Highland Cows are very devoted to their calves nursing them for about 6 months.

NORTH AMERICAN RIVER OTTER PUP
Lontra canadensis

The semi-aquatic North American River Otter's babies, called pups, are birthed in litters of 1 to 6, in a den near water. They are born with fat, but are blind and helpless and require constant care by their mothers. Pups open their eyes at 1 month, begin to learn how to swim at about 8 weeks, are weaned at 3 months and eventually leave the den where they were raised at about a year old.

One special night, a group of Unicorns were flying in the direction of falling stars. The falling stars were disappearing into a sparkly sea, which transformed them into starfish while changing snowflakes into jellyfish. They rode the tail of a shooting star into the magical sea, turning them into enchanting creatures of half Unicorn and half fish. One day while following migrating dolphins, they discovered the surface of our world. Thus began the legend of the Mermicornios, rumored to only resurface during a lunar eclipse.

Hailing from Planet BT, Prince TATA dreams to spread love across the galaxy. Deciding that destiny is at hand, TATA summons guardian robot VAN to prepare for an interstellar journey to Earth.

Shortly after arrival, the Prince concludes that the most effective means to win over the hearts of earthlings is to become a super, no...something much more ambitious.
A UNIVERSTAR.

Realizing that a collective effort is crucial, TATA & VAN scout for like-minded hopefuls to share in the dream. Soon they discover 6 - KOYA, RJ, SHOOKY, MANG, CHIMMY and COOKY - to become what will be known as the most influential pop-culture sensation the galaxy has ever witnessed. BT21.
